Churchill Marks 85th Birthday With 'Speech'

LONDON — (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill celebrated his 85th birthday today by making his first parliamentary speech in four years to a cheering House of Commons.

The grand old man of British politics walked firmly into the chamber he dominated for so long a few hours before sitting down to a small private family birthday party.

THE CHEERS OF fellow members of Parliament rolled out from both sides of the aisle which divides the government from the opposition.

They joined a flood of congratulations which poured into the Churchill home from the four corners of the earth.

In response to the ovation, Churchill made his first House of Commons speech since he retired as Prime Minister for the second and last time in 1955.

HE ROSE FROM his customary front row seat and told the House: "May I say I accept most gratefully and eagerly both forms of compliments."

He referred to the cheers and the speeches of congratulation from leaders of both the Conservative and Labor parties.

Churchill's appearance in the house came as a surprise. He had been expected to spend the day quietly at home.

THE PRINCIPAL observance planned for the occasion was a party for about 20 relatives and close friends at the former Prime Minister's town house.

A highlight of the birthday will be the presentation of a four-layer 60-pound birthday cake including ingredients from virtually every country outside the Iron Curtain—including a drop of water from the Panama Canal.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Generally clear today through Tuesday. Slightly warmer most sections this afternoon. Highs today 65-75 upper valleys, 75-85 lower valleys.

Yesterday's high was 80, low 38. Saturday high was 73, low 36.

ADDING MACHINE THEFT, SALE TRY TOTALS CHARGE

His adventures with an allegedly stolen adding machine added up to nothing but trouble today for transient Clifford E. Stenbridge.

Police said that Stenbridge attempted to sell an adding machine to liquor store clerk Fred Coble on Saturday, but Coble started putting two - and - two together.

Coble called office equipment operator Claude Thompson, who checked the machine and found it was one he'd leased to the Palm Springs United Fund headquarters.

But police found that someone had broken into the United Fund office and had taken the adding machine, which Stenbridge claims he found under a bush at Vista China and North Indian Avenue.

Police, however, figured that Stenbridge plus the adding machine, coupled with the office burglary and the attempted sale, added up to a charge of suspicion of burglary for the transient.

PLANNERS TO HAVE PUBLIC HEARINGS

Four public hearings are scheduled for the Wednesday meeting of the City Planning Commission, beginning at 3 p.m. The hearings include two on requests for zone changes and two for conditional use permits.

At 3 p.m., the Planning Commission will hear the application by Edith Ritter for a conditional use permit for a nursery school at the northeast corner of Rancho Road and Compadre Road, in Palm Valley Estates.

SECOND CONDITIONAL use permit hearing scheduled for 3:20 p.m., is on application by A.B.C., Inc., operator of Lindy Lou's Pancake House, for outdoor dining operation in conjunction with restaurant at 211 East Palm Canyon Drive.

Zone change request hearings will include application by Samuel P. and Sophia Maloff for change of zone from R-1a to R-2 for lots 73, 74, and west half of 75, Tahquitz Park, scheduled for 3:10 p.m. Change is from single family units to limited multiple family district.

SECOND ZONE change request hearing, slated for 3:30 p.m., is on application by Stanley A. Goss for change from C-1 and G-R to C-2 for lots 61 and 17, Section

Arrest Brings Narcotics Charge

A not-too-carefully concealed cigarette yesterday sent ex-convict Salvador Lopez Samano, 29, to jail on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Officer Vernon Tave said he stopped Samano on Palm Canyon Drive at 3:25 a.m. Sunday. A search of the former San Quentin inmate turned up one cigarette — believed to be marijuana — wrapped in a napkin and tucked into an eyeglass carrying case.

Investigators said Samano isn't telling where he got the allegedly illicit smoke. Samano was booked on charges of possessing narcotics.

Youth Slips Into 200-Foot Ravine

MECCA — A 15-year-old Glendale boy who slipped into a 200-foot ravine Saturday and was trapped while a friend went for help, was pulled out on a rope by sheriff's deputies.

The youth, Bob Bau, was pulled out while a friend, Bob Seamount, of Glendale, went for help. Bau was uninjured.

SHARP-EYED BURGLAR CONTINUES TO ELUDE DESERT AREA AUTHORITIES

An elusive, sharp-eyed burglar whose daytime pranks have garnered more than $40,000 worth of loot in the past five weeks today continued to lead Palm Springs police and sheriff's deputies on a will-o-the-wisp chase across the resort area.

Since Nov. 17, this poor man's Arsene Lupin has staged some 20 raids on Palm Springs area hotel rooms, taking as little as $50 in cash and as much as $10,000 worth of jewelry in single instances of his felonious escapades.

HIS IDENTITY is unknown, to police, at least. But this footpad's

22, along west side of South Palm Canyon Drive south of Camino Parocela. Change is requested to general commercial classification. Old business on the agenda includes application by St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church for conditional use permit for accessory church activities at 155 Prescott Drive; conditional use permit application by Smoketree, Inc., to install 14½ acre shopping center.

REQUEST BY Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association for approval of architectural approval of expansion of office facilities at 383 South Palm Canyon Drive; request for one-year extension of conditional use permit for new church construction, by Community Church.

Application by Jack Weiss for approval of record of survey for cooperative apartment development in Chino Palms Estates; application by Roy Fey for final approval of portion of Barbara tract; and application by Dale Neale for final approval of Palm Springs Gateway Estates.

Khrushchev May Announce Troop Withdrawal

VIENNA, Austria (UPI) — The seventh Hungarian Communist Party Congress opened today in Budapest and there was widespread speculation Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would announce the withdrawal of Russian troops from the satellite nation.

Khrushchev makes a major address to the congress Tuesday and Western political observers said he may take advantage of the United Nations debate on Hungary to announce a troop withdrawal in line with his new "peace offensive."

Foss Named Commissioner

CHICAGO (UPI)—Former Gov. Joseph Foss of South Dakota announced today he had accepted commissionership of the newly formed American Football League.

Harry Wismer, majority stockholder of the league's New York franchise, and Lamar Hunt, president of the league, introduced Foss.

"I am absolutely new at this," Foss said. "However, I am starting at once to assume the duties of commissioner. Actually, I started last week."

operated has painted a shadowy picture of his personality and character for the lawmen currently dogging his trail.

"One thing we know for sure," said Detective Lt. Robert White, "this man is no amateur. He knows his business well."

He moves fast, knows what he's looking for and generally knows where to find it with the least possible amount of fuss. He's reasonably neat, seldom leaving a room in disarray.

BUT THAT'S A questionable virtue attributed more to his ability than a possible knack for

All Building Marks Broken In November

Total for Year Near $15 Million, Tops 1956 Record

All past resort building records tumbled today as city officials tabulated almost $15 million worth of new construction for the first 11 months of 1959.

The year's building total to date is $14,874,892, almost $1 million higher than the previous construction record of $13,939,434 for the entire year of 1956.

BUILDING department clerk Barbara Bruton reported that the month of November contributed $1,649,573 worth of new building permits to this year's record-setting figure.

The 1959 building pace eclipsed the previous year's 11-month total by almost $4 million. Total construction through November, 1958, was $10,973,340 and the figure for the month of November, 1958, was $931,175.

NEW HOMES accounted for the biggest share of last month's building schedules. Permits were issued for the construction of 46 new dwellings, worth an aggregate of $830,000.

Apartment buildings were second with $308,000. All told, 3½ apartment structures, including 52 separate units, were built during the month. The "half" figure was attributed to a building that included two stores and one apartment. Four commercial additions contributed $203,850.

SWIMMING POOLS were fourth in line for the month's construction pace. A total of 32 pools were valued at $104,000. This brings the city's current swimming pool count to 2,127 — easily a record number of swimming pools per capita.

Permits for the month were also included for 32 dwelling additions and alterations, $72,623; three trailer additions, $4,800; one manufacturing addition, $15,000; 2½ commercial buildings, $96,000.

Others were issued for two hotel additions, $3,600; one church building, $11,000, and one apartment addition, $700.

Rail Stocks Up In Early Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rail stocks picked up fractions to more than a point in early trading, continuing the rally in progress at the close last week and highlighting a generally higher, moderately active market.

The improvement in rails lifted New York Central, Illinois Central, Northern Pacific round a point each, eliminating the average losses suffered in the early part of last week.

Peculiarly, or characteristically, this old pro's sphere of operations is limited to hotel rooms. Only three recent residential burglaries have been credited to his account by Lt. White.

"He seems to be a very discriminating citizen," White added. "He never takes anything but the best."

Parking Meter Holiday Ends Here Tuesday

Tuesday's the big day for Palm Springs motorists — the day the parking meter holiday ends for the city.

Police Chief August Kettmann today warned that strict enforcement of city parking meter ordinances and a new overtime parking tag system go into effect tomorrow.

HENCEFORTH, CHIEF Kettmann said, all parking violators will be tagged with the new pay-by-mail envelopes instead of customary pink "warning" notices. Under the new enforcement system, all autos parked at meters showing the familiar red overtime flag will be tagged with special citation envelopes.

RECIPIENTS OF these new citations may pay their fines by slipping a $1 bill into the prepaid envelope and dropping the envelope into the nearest mail box.

Carbo Given Two Year Sentence

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frankie Carbo, alleged underworld boxing boss, today received a two-year jail sentence on charges of conspiracy, undercover managing of fighters, and undercover match-making of professional boxers.

CHINA-U.S. DISPUTE 'FICTION'--NEHRU

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today the Chinese Communist ambassador in New Delhi had complained officially that the U.S. consulate in Bombay had kidnapped a Chinese National.

However, in a speech to Parliament Nehru refused to comment on the Bombay incident except to say that both the American and Chinese Communist versions of the incident were contradictory and "appear to be some kind of fiction."

HE SAID HE HAD informed both embassies not to let the persons involved to leave the country.

Red China's official protest today followed Peiping radio charges that American consular officials in Bombay had kidnapped

Runaway Girls Taken off Train

MECCA — Three juvenile girls, who were taken off a train two miles south of Mecca Sunday, are today awaiting word from their parents in Yuma where they will be returned, sheriff's deputies said today.

The three were picked up as juvenile runaways and taken to Yuma, where deputies contacted Yuma police authorities and parents.

DARIN WINS TWO GRAMMYS, HOPES TO PASS SINATRA

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Newcomer Bobby Darin, sharing honors with the old pro Frank Sinatra in the annual Grammy awards, said today "I hope to pass Frank in everything he's done."

Darin, 23, the cocky and confident current singing idol among the teen-age set, won two Grammys last night — the same number won by Sinatra, 41, the swoon king of the 40s — in the second annual National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences awards program.

"I hope to have an oscar and an enemy some day to go along with these Grammy awards," said Darin. "I'm anxious to prove this isn't a one-shot success."

15 Minute Talk Set Thursday

Congressional Leaders Given Preview Today

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower will speak to the nation Thursday night just before leaving on his 11-nation tour, the White House announced today. He will discuss both his journey and the steel dispute.

The announcement was made several hours after the President gave congressional leaders of both parties a preview of his goodwill tour and received their unanimous "good luck and God speed" for his mission.

EISENHOWER WILL speak from 4:15 to 4:30 p.m. (p.s.t.) from his office Thursday, then leave immediately on a flight to Rome, the first leg of his 22,370-mile trip. His talk will be carried by radio and TV networks.

The White House also said the chief executive would report to the American people shortly after his return from Europe, Asia and Africa. He is due back the night of Dec. 22 and Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said a date for his second report to the people had not been set.

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE also will discuss his trip at a news conference Wednesday morning.

Continuing his preparations for the long journey, Eisenhower met for an hour early this morning with Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and Senate. He told them he would try to further the American aim of a more peaceful world but would undertake no negotiations.

SENATE DEMOCRATIC Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told reporters after leaving the special breakfast conference at the White House "He will take with him our understanding, our prayers and our hopes for a successful journey."

"We hope that the peoples he contacts will realize as we do that as far as peace is concerned, the American people stand as one, united," the Texas added.

Another Democratic leader, House Speaker Sam Rayburn said, "It is a strenuous piece of business, but I think we all think it is a good thing—it is not amiss."

U. S. Praises Panamanian Troops Today

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — U.S. authorities praised Panamanian troops today for the quick action which curbed Saturday night's anti-American rioting by unruly teen-agers waving Fidel Castro placards.

Thirteen U.S. soldiers and a score of Panamanians were injured in the outbreak, none of them seriously. The only Americans hospitalized were Pvt. James E. Mitchell, East Prairie, Mo., who accidentally jabbed himself with his own bayonet, and Pfc. Ralph B. Gillan, Ft. Worth, Tex., whose forehead was cut by a rock thrown by a rioter.

Panamanian authorities failed about 150 persons, including "student demonstrators, looters and plain hoodlums."

U.S. Warning Trailerite on Bad Heaters

16 Deaths Caused By Faulty Heaters, Says U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you own an auto trailer heater, read this. It may save your life. Sixteen Americans already are dead because they didn't get the warning or because they didn't take the time to check their heater.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH Service announced Friday night that the heaters had snuffed out eight more lives. The service disclosed eight previous deaths when it issued its first warning last week.

Nearly 1,000 trailers still are equipped with faulty bottled gas heaters that build up a deadly concentration of carbon monoxide gas in a very short time, the Public Health Service said.

A NATIONWIDE drive is under way to track down these heaters and fix them so they will be safe. More than 1,000 of the dangerous heaters have been located so far. The heaters were one type manufactured by the Thurm Engineering Co., of Elkhart, Ind. They were put on the market in the past 18 months.

The faulty bottled gas heater does not provide complete combustion. This means that deadly fumes are released when it is used.

THE COMPANY HAS said the heater can be made safe by moving the fire box up a fraction of an inch. But this should be done by someone who knows what he is doing.

The problem of finding the faulty heaters is tough. They were sold to 82 trailer manufacturers and sent to 250 cities and more than 300 dealers.

AID Enrollment Hiked by Gas Co.

An 89 per cent enrollment was reached by employees in the Southern California Gas Co.'s Eastern division in support of the Associated In-group Donors-United Givers program for health and welfare agencies, according to division manager William P. Hand.

Presenting a special merit award flag to the group, AID representative C. R. Rothwell said, "Gas company endorsement of the AID-United Givers program has resulted in one of the finest records for support of health and welfare agencies in Southern California."

U. S. MOON SHOT HELD VITAL TO SAVE 'PRESTIGE'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A spokesman for the American Rocket Society said today the United States would suffer a fatal loss of prestige unless it tried again within three months to fire a satellite into orbit around the moon.

It was learned that the Air Force could get around shortages of rockets and launching pads and could launch another Atlas-Able rocket carrying a picture-taking moon satellite in as little as two months if the White House issued the necessary orders and priorities.

A successful U.S. moon shot in the near future would boost American prestige before President Eisenhower's trip to Russia in the spring. The Russians hit the moon with their Lunik II just before Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev visited the United States in September.

Beechcraft Will Unveil 1960 Planes

Executive Aircraft Due for Showing At PD Airpark

Beechcraft's 1960 line of executive aircraft will have its premiere west coast showing against the festive vacation setting of the Palm Springs area with a three-day open house at Palm Desert Airpark, Friday through Sunday, Dec. 4-6.

Southern California Beechcraft dealers, sponsors of the event, selected the Palm Springs area as the scene of the 1960 showing to allow plane owners to "combine business with pleasure," according to Norman Larson, president of The Norman Larson Co., Southland distributor for the line of business aircraft.

HUNDREDS OF PLANES from Fresno to the Mexican border are expected to fly in for the event which will allow a leisurely and thorough inspection of all new models over the week-end.

Headlining the exhibit will be the first appearance of the all-new Queen Air executive transport and the four-passenger, single engine Debonair.

ALONG WITH THE 1960 models of the Bonanza, Travel Air, Twin Bonanza, and Super G-18 more than half a million dollars will be represented in the business aircraft display.

The three-day showing will be witnessed by light plane fanciers from throughout the Greater Southland area.

BURGLAR

heeled. Their individual losses seldom dip below $200 in cash or $5,000 in jewels.

Most of the bandit's strikes occurred while the victims were sporting at the hotel pool or shopping the resort's downtown stores, indicating that the weasel-minded footpad keeps a sharp eye out for the movements of his prospective targets.

You might picture him first "casing" a victim, watching the careless flashing of a roll of bills or calculating the glitter of a diamond-studded necklace.

THEN YOU ENVISION him "stalking out" the quarry, waiting for his mark to wheel his car out of the parking lot.

Now you see him slipping through an unlocked window or stealthily prying a quickly yielding door lock.

He must have done a bit of window-peeping too. He seems to know just where to find his loot—a necklace in a dresser drawer, a bracelet in a jewel box or a roll of crisp $100 notes tucked in a trouser pocket.

THEN HE'S GONE, as quickly and as silently as he came.

Thus far, both the thief and his victims have been comparatively lucky. None of his crimes has involved violence.

But police feel that it's only a matter of time before the burglar is caught off-guard by the unexpected return of his victim.

Then, maybe, it becomes a matter of murder, or, at best, a case of savage assault.

RIGHT NOW, the lawmen are continuing a determined investigation which is destined to eventually pull the mask from the man whose game of hare and hounds is sure to end the way most such games do—in the frying pan.

Naturally, Lt. White and Deputy J. D. Purkiss have a few ideas for snaring their elusive quarry. But they're not talking naturally. Meanwhile, how do hotel guests and home owners protect themselves?

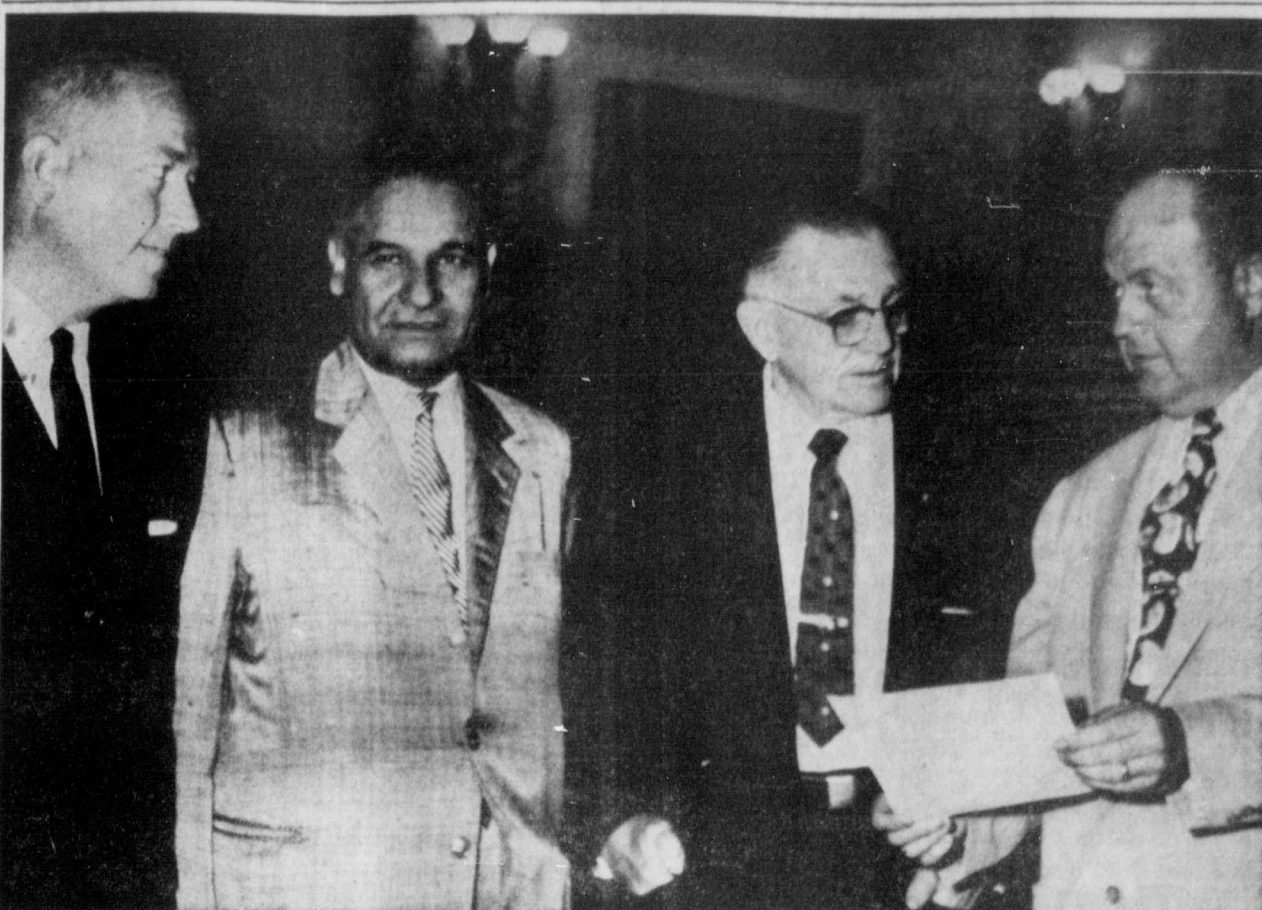

Simple, says Lt. White — just exercise ordinary common-sense precautions.

Check your jewelry in the hotel safe and take it out only when necessary. Don't carry large amounts of cash; use travelers checks or credit cards.

IF YOU MUST carry cash, keep it out of sight—don't play the big butter and egg man for hotel bar patrons. It's a rather vainglorious way to lose your poke.

For homeowners, the precautions are equally elementary. Get a light that flashes on and off periodically while you're away at night. Don't pull down the shades—that's a sure clue the house is empty.

SLATER ASSISTED WITH INDIAN BILL

By FRED C. WEIGEL

quire the Palm Springs Airport Palm Springs' attempt to acquire as a municipal facility, is just one major event which came out of two congressional bills signed by President Eisenhower which affect Indian land in the Palm Springs area.

One bill was the well known, long fought for Agua Caliente Indian Equalization bill, and the other the vital, badly needed long term leasing act.

THE PREVIOUSLY untold story of one man who greatly aided this second bill, the long term leasing act, involves the public service of Sumner Slater, vice president and trust officer, City National Bank at Beverly Hills.

Absorbing all costs for several trips to Washington D. C., Slater appeared both at hearings and special meetings with members of the Senate and House of Representatives in his efforts to get the long term leasing act passed by the 86th Congress.

BEFORE HE WENT into the pleadings for longer term leasing, from 25 years with a 25 year option to 99 — year maximum, Slater said that the basic reason for fighting for longer term leases in the Palm Springs area was based on the fact that the City National Bank had been appointed guardian for 11 minor Indians.

"In taking over these accounts we understandably looked to the assets that were involved, because it is a fiduciary's duty to conserve assets and to increase income," Slater told the committee. "One way to increase the income of these minors is to perfect leases to cover the land."

Hikers to Go To Waterfall On Wednesday

Desert Museum hikers will go to the top of the waterfall in Falls Creek on Wednesday, according to Terry Folwell, who is in charge.

The first drop of this falls is estimated at 700 feet, and it plunges into a canyon 1,000 feet deep. The falls is located on Palm Springs Water Company land, and special permission has been granted to the hikers to make the three-mile trip.

Last hike was to Hidden Springs and Grotto Canyon—located in the Box Canyon area beyond Mecca. The group found that flashlights were useful in going through Grotto, as the top of the canyon walls come together blocking out the sunlight.

No Decision Yet

Before he left for his swing through California, Governor Rockefeller said that he might make up his mind on this trip whether or not he would become a candidate for the G. O. P. Presidential nomination. He did not say, however, when he would announce his decision. Political observers do not expect an announcement until early next year. So we have no way of knowing just what the Governor thought of his chances after the visit out here. We hardly think he had reason to be greatly encouraged.

The Rockefeller camp has intimated that their man is still just testing his wings. But most experts are in agreement that the Governor had better make his mind up pretty soon and start an aggressive campaign to overcome the big lead of Vice President Nixon. Some odds makers give Nixon a 3 to 1 lead but many other observers give him as high as 10 to 1.

The New York Governor is acting for all the world like a candidate and probably is. He will want to put off an announcement just as long as possible — just like Nixon. But if he expects to catch up with Nixon he will have to get into high gear pretty fast. And he'll have to develop some issues upon which to base his campaign. He would certainly get nowhere attacking the Vice President.

Rockefeller gave some inkling of his views on national economy when he said that productivity in this country can be increased enough in the next 10 years to make possible increased personal income and tax reductions. Production has been increasing at the rate of 4 percent annually. Rockefeller believes it could be boosted to 5 percent by holding the line on the work week.

The Governor also believes that the government should be on a pay-as-you-go basis. That policy will be popular with almost everybody — except that hardly anybody believes this to be possible as long as we have to spend so much on the arms and space race. President Eisenhower has made a determined effort to keep the Government from going further into debt but has been successful in only two of the past seven years.

Rockefeller's position is a difficult one because he has to differ with Vice President Nixon and the Administration in order to win support without an attack on either. He will likely depend much on his personality to win popular support. With most of the G. O. P. pros in the Nixon camp to stay, only some unforeseen development in the next few months would be likely to change things.

No matter how slim his chances may be, Gov. Rockefeller is a very popular man and his "campaign" is attracting widespread interest.

Freedom of Conscience

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In Maryland, the "Free State," a man named Roy Torcaso was recently appointed notary public, but the Circuit Court says Mr. Torcaso can't accept the appointment because he won't, as the Maryland Constitution requires of public servants, make "a declaration of belief in the existence of God."

The case is headed for the U.S. Supreme Court where we will undoubtedly get a classic battle along ideological lines. The Liberals will contend, as they already have, that Mr. Torcaso's religious freedom has been impaired by the State. The Conservatives will declare, as the Circuit Court has already done, that Mr. Torcaso is no different from anybody else and that he must abide by the law.

BUT WE SHOULD beware of exaggerations and distortions in this case. Nobody has told Mr. Torcaso that he is obliged to embrace or profess a religion. As a private citizen he is entitled to be a pagan or an atheist. It is only in regard to a public servant that the religious matter arises. More, no Marylander, even as a notary public or as a State Governor, is under compulsion to declare for any particular religious sect or orthodoxy.

The Maryland Constitution in Article 37 states that "no religious test ought to be required as a qualification for any office of profit or trust in this State, other than a declaration of belief in the existence of God."

WHAT THIS amounts to, of course, is not a religious test but a moral one. Does the officeholder acknowledge that there are universal rules superior to his own bodily and selfish hungers? Otherwise, the argument runs within the Law, how can a man serve the larger interest of the public which has hired him?

Daniel Webster, perhaps the greatest figure who ever argued in the Supreme Court on philosophical themes, once dealt with surpassing wisdom, on this subject of religious tests. In 1820 Webster was a delegate to a Massachusetts Convention where it was proposed to amend the State Constitution by abolishing the declaration of belief in the Christian religion as a condition of public office.

THIS "RIPPER" proposal was the work of radicals of that day who were influenced by the "goldsmith" French Revolution, much as present day radicals take their thinking from Russia.

Webster went to the heart of the matter. He saw that the Liberals, as always, were confusing human "rights" with human "desires." A man might very well desire to be notary public or Governor, but he cannot claim it as a privilege. "Nothing is more unfounded," Webster said, "than the notion that any man has a right to an office."

THE STATE OF Massachusetts — that is, the people — can and do set any number of qualifications upon a public post. Age, place of residence, ownership of property, religion or non-religion, Webster insisted, are all matters that pertain to eligibility. The State could give a man an office, could withhold from him an office, could state the terms under which a man could accept an office.

But Webster went further. His conservatism took him from the shallows to the depths of governmental philosophy. He felt that the State should waive its right to impose religious tests. Why? Well, because, in a Christian community, most officeholders would be Christians anyhow. The rare exception, the non-Christian or non-believer in any religion, who became elected or appointed to office might be an extraordinarily gifted person. (Webster did not foresee that such a person might also be a crackpot).

THE DANGER from the infidels in Massachusetts in 1820 was not great. Webster was against burdening the statute books with laws that might seem hurtful to so much as "a single individual or a very few individuals," He added:

"It is an act, if not of injustice, yet of unkindness and of unnecessary rigor, to call on such individuals to make a (religious) declaration, or to exclude them from office if they refuse to do so."

This is conservatism at its best. Least governed is best governed. Kindness has an equal place with justice. Today, of course, we have many more infidels than in 1820, and Webster was not conceding them any "rights" to office. But it would be a great day for the Supreme Court if the wisdom of Webster found a way into this and all cases where ideological warfare is sure to rage.

This Side Of The Sun

You write it so sweet
It smells like a flower.
But when it comes out,
Oh, my, is it sour.

Now, understand me, this is no reflection on the composing room. They are under tremendous pressure, and with thousands of words to daily with daily, it's remarkable that more are not fouled up.

Besides, if I cast aspersions on the composing room, they could get even. Put one of these pieces in upside down like they did once when they thought I hadn't done them right.

BUT, IT'S LIKE this. Some of the slips that occur make me look dumb. No comments, please.

Anyway, I thought I had a nice little crack at TV commercials Monday. Something about all of the plugs for various gimmicks to ease an upset stomach.

But the first line got lost and what came out didn't make sense.

REMINDS ME that a couple of years ago I retired worrying because I didn't have an idea for a column. During the night I was awakened by screaming sirens. Could have been a fire truck, an ambulance or just a police car.

While trying to get back to sleep I had a bright idea. Reached over to the bedside table and scribbled it.

Next morning when I tried to read it, it was nothing. Just lines east, west, north and south. No sense.

AT BREAKFAST, however, came a lucky coincidence. There was talk of the stock market and a sage remark was made: "Don't put all your eggs in one basket."

Boom! I had it! That's what I wanted. I was writing a boost for the United Fund drive and there was the idea. A paraphrase which would come out: "Put all your eggs in one basket."

HOWEVER, the proof reader of that era, (he's no longer with us) figured I was erring and changed my Chest Fund slogan which I thought was clever, back to "Don't put all your eggs in one basket."

Which was diametrically opposed to what I meant.

Well, things happen that way. I know a bald-headed advertising man. He used to have a luxurious growth of hair.

HE HAD A BRIGHT idea one time. Writing an ad for a hilarious movie, he said: "From half past eight to half past ten, they laughed and laughed and laughed again."

The linotype, following the style sheet, set it up: "From 8:30 to 10:30 they laughed and laughed again."

That's why the ad man is totally and permanently bald. He tore out so much hair.

IN MY 56 YEARS of treading the journalistic vineyards, I've made many a boner. But none like the prize headline in my collection of goofs. This one was in a New Jersey paper.

It concerned a hunting mishap. The top line: HUNTER WOUNDED IN ACCIDENT.

The supplementary head said: Father of Eleven Shot. Mistaken for Rabbit.

Last Man Out

The jasmine smell of pikake leis is in the air tonight and Honolulu is jeweled with lights far up the mountain. Island music pours from the open doors of the big jet plane out on the hard-stand.

"Good-by, Honolulu, you've been mighty good to me." This is the block-long carrier that will fill Oahu's 635 square miles of coconut island with 2 million tourists ten years from now. Four jet-scream hours from the Mainland.

By 1961, the jet strip will be finished at Tahiti.

FROM HAWAII now, you can fly Transocean to Pago Pago in Samoa.

There are islands like Bora Bora, with the World War II bomber strip.

The Marquesas still untouched. Rarotonga, with no air service except a New Zealand government plane every three months. The Tonga Islands, with occasional service out of the Fijis by TEAL flying boat.

THE TROPICAL north of Australia. The Great Barrier Reef and long, white sand beaches. Available by QANTAS jets a day from here.

New Guinea of Stone Age men in uncontrolled territory. The Solomons and scattered islands that you and I will never see.

WELL, GOOD-BY Honolulu, you've been mighty good to me. The Pan American flight is called. The long-range Boeing 707, Big Daddy of the ocean-flying jet fleet. So fast that the pilot who flies it from San Francisco in the afternoon, takes it back again that night to get in his flying-hours time.

Stacked with flower leis and coconut hats and 111 passengers. ISLAND MUSIC on the loudspeakers, cocktails on the pull-down trays, 31,000 feet up and 500-plus miles per hour.

This year there were 170,000 of us. In ten years we will be 2 million.

Something to think about.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Trip to New York

HOLLYWOOD — It was Ethel Merman on the other end of the long-distance phone. "My pal Mary Martin is brand-new on Broadway in a brand-new hit, 'The Sound of Music,' and everything's comin' up roses for me too with 'Gypsy' so why not spend the weekend here?"

Why not? I hopped a jet at International Airport here in Los Angeles, after lunch, and landed at New York's Idlewild six hours later in time for dinner at "21" — followed by Friday night's performance of Miss Merman's "Gypsy" at the Broadway Theatre.

YOU MIGHT CALL it "How to Pack a Two-Week Vacation Into Two Days." After "Gypsy" I caught Eddie Fisher's show in the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria. Then Kaye Ballard's late-late comic cut-ups at the Bon Soir in Greenwich Village.

Unlike LA's 2 a.m. closing time, N.Y. has a 4 a.m. curfew. So I got back to my hotel on Park Avenue at 4:30 a.m., grabbed eight hours of shut-eye, got up at 12:30 noon on Saturday, and made the matinee of "The Miracle Worker," a shattering emotional dramatization of Helen Keller's childhood, at 2:30 p.m. at the Playhouse Theatre.

AFTER THAT show, I had cocktails with Miss Merman at Sardi's dinner at the Colony, and caught Mary Martin in the new Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The Sound of Music," at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre.

I met Miss Martin backstage after the show, guided her through the mob of fans waiting to see her at the stage door, and off we went in her limousine — to Sardi's again. She had an early call next day (Sunday) to record the musical for Columbia Records, along with the rest of the cast, so I was left alone, panting for more entertainment, at midnight — Saturday night, a block from Broadway, with nothing to do, nowhere to go — except the Copacabana.

SO IT WAS the Copa, followed by the late show at Julius Monk's nightclub, quaintly called The Upstairs at the Downstairs, and back to the hotel at 4:30 a.m. again. Up yesterday (Sunday) at 9:30 a.m. (who needs sleep in New York?) Breakfast in the room, 11 a.m. Mass at St. Patrick's, just a short walk from the hotel, then a cab to NBC-TV in Brooklyn to see how their shooting facilities compare with those of NBC-TV in Burbank (not too well), then a cab from Brooklyn to Idlewild for the 6 p.m. jet flight back to L.A.

It was 11:30 p.m. New York time but only 8:30 L.A. time when the jet plane landed in L.A. It took me an hour to drive from the airport to my office — to write this.

TOTAL TIME consumed: 7½ hours — just to write a column extolling the joys of the jet age!

Sidelights (same trip): I caught "Gypsy" with Xavier Cugat and his wife, Abbe Lane. Just as Ethel was winding up her first act singing "Everything's Coming Up Roses," a masher seated on Abbe's right tried to get fresh with her, not realizing the man on her left was her husband.

Cutie reached over and clonked the "kok" right on cue with Ethel's line about "roses for you and for me." As the masher rushed up the aisle and made his getaway Cutie cracked, "But no roses for him-cha-cha-cha!"

LIZ HAS HELPED Eddie's business at the Waldorf a lot by sitting at the ringside during several of his shows. Word's been getting around and the customers have been lining up to see her as well as her singing spouse.

Sidelight Etceteras: I flew back with singer Jaye P. Morgan, a Burbank girl who has been living in the East for the past few years but will be located in her home state of California now — because she was flying back to marry Chuck Kelly of her favorite, singing group (and Bob Hope's), The Modernaires.

TUESDAY WELD and Tab Hunter were a twosome at another Broadway bistro visited by this reporter during his all-too-short and entirely-too-heckle stay in New York — Danny's Hideaway. Jackie Leonard stopped by to chat with them for a while and then, saying ta-ta to Tab and the 16-year-old Dowager Empress of Hollywood's Beatnik Set, leaned over to Tuesday and said, "Bye, doll — and give my regards to the Los Angeles P-T-A!"

Ethel Merman has decided to hit the road with "Gypsy." She'll repeat in the part of "Madame Rose," mother of Gypsy Rose Lee and June Haver, in London, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and plans other stops too before she makes the movie. Ethel told me it looks as though Mitzi Gaynor will play her daughter Gypsy in the film, same part that made a star of Sandra Church on Broadway.

IT'S BIG THEATRICAL news when Ethel tours, because she seldom does. I think I know the reason for her road romp. She originated "Annie Get Your Gun" on Broadway. However, most fans associate it with Mary Martin because Mary toured with it and then starred in the telecast. Miss Merman isn't about to let one get away from her again — and I do mean "Gypsy!"

As for TV production facilities in Brooklyn, I found them preposterously primitive compared with Hollywood's, complete with alley cats that saunter into the studio right off of Avenue M and right smack in the middle of a scene.

Jewels Disappear in Mystery Film

The diamond mines of India, where historians say diamonds were first discovered, and more recently those of South America and South Africa, have led men to starve and steal in their search for the crystallized carbon that is one of the hardest substances known — and the most beautiful.

Although there have been many countries in which diamonds have been discovered, and prospectors the world over are always searching for new fields, there has only been one center where they have been polished and treated, where the rough pebble is turned into the sparkling stone. This is Amsterdam, key industrial city of Holland.

Not unnaturally, it is to Holland that Producer David E. Rose took his stars, Robert Taylor, Nicole Maurey and Linda Christian, on locations for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The House of the Seven Gables." The film deals with a mystery that develops as an aftermath of World War II — the disappearance of a large haul of diamonds, stolen from Holland by the Nazis and lost when the invader was beaten back in 1945.

Again, oddly enough, it was the people that Hitler and his henchmen persecuted that first took to Amsterdam the skill that made the city the world's diamond center. And it was persecution that led them to Amsterdam. At one time the industry was a part of Antwerp. But the skilled Jewish workers who made up the diamond industry, fled that city because of anti-Semitism and settled with the more tolerant, more understanding Dutch.

At the outbreak of World War II, before Hitler murdered most of them, there were over 2,000 men employed in the diamond cutting industry in Amsterdam. There, with skill unequalled anywhere else in the world, they cut the newly mined stones for industry as well as ornament.

Fabulous stories are told about the wealth entrusted to the hands of these skilled craftsmen. The Amsterdam Company of Asscher, for example, was given the enormous Cullinan diamond by King Edward VII, which was presented to him by the South African government. It was not until after ten months of work that the King received his finished product, the rough stone having been split and polished into two large and several smaller stones.

Diamond cutting is not a craft just picked up by anyone useful with his hands. It is a hereditary craft handed down from grand-

"The steering mechanism on our modern day automobiles is highly important to safe driving. Here at Plaza Motors we have an exclusive machine known as the John Bean wheel aligning and wheel balancing machine. This equipment accurately meters and gauges the front wheels for correct alignment and corrects any steering trouble on the car. It also corrects improper tire wear and saves the driver many needless accidents that may be attributable to faulty steering or uneven tire wear. Now while this machine cost Plaza Motors a lot of money to install, the cost to the customer who may need this service, is very inexpensive. The saving of tire wear alone may pay for this service many times over . . . not to mention what a bad skid would cost you when an emergency stop must be made. It only takes a few minutes to show you the true condition of your steering mechanism and front wheel alignment. Why not stop in today and let us show you how it works."

Save the Day A Sweet Way at Christmas

The holiday candy supply needn't run low when you can make mocha-mallow fudge in minutes. Combine 2 tablespoons of butter with 2-3 cup (11 small can) of undiluted evaporated milk, 1 2-3 cups of sugar and a pinch of salt in a saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, and cook 4 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Begin timing when the mixture begins to bubble around edges of pan.

Remove from heat. Stir in 1 1/2 cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows, 1 1/2 cups (1 1/2 packages of 6 ounces each) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 teaspoon of vanilla and 1 tablespoon of instant coffee powder.

Sir vigorously for 1 minute or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended. Pour into buttered 9-inch square pan.

Top with 1/2 cup of prepared marshmallow topping and cut in with spatula, forming swirls. Cool and cut into squares. Makes about 2 pounds.

A Kingly Treat

To give your palate a kingly treat, substitute the amount of water required to cook 1 cup of rice, with equal amounts of Italian white wine and chicken broth, a tablespoon of olive oil, plus a clove of garlic. When rice is tender, it will have absorbed liquid. Remove garlic clove. Blend in 3 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons grated Italian Parmesan cheese.

Festive Outdoor Eating

Many hostesses are sometimes at a loss to know "what to serve" at the many holiday "eat-outdoor" parties.

Actually it is entirely up to the particular occasion. Many wonderful parties simply serve tiny assorted sandwiches, punch and lots of congenial folks. On the other hand, you can have a more elaborate menu and people will long remember your hospitality.

Creamy Cottage Cheese is synonymous with good eating and served in combination with ripe red tomato wedges and ham roll-ups, it is a delight. If you buy the very best cottage cheese, you can serve it with the knowledge that you are giving your family and guests a nutritious, high protein feast they will relish. Either milk or butter milk coolers, made half and half with pineapple, orange or tomato juice, will complete this wonderful "eat-outdoor" treat. Here's how you make the Ham Roll-Ups.

CHEESE AND HAM ROLL-UPS

- 2 (3-oz.) packages Knudsen Cream Cheese
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon minced dill pickle
1 (3-oz.) package Bleu cheese
8 thin slices boiled ham
parsley sprigs for garnish
- Have cream cheese at room temperature and blend in horseradish, lemon juice and pickle. Add Bleu cheese crumbled fine and stir until well mixed. Spread mixture on ham slices and roll up as tightly as possible. Wrap in waxed paper and chill about an hour. When ready to serve cut each roll-up in half and secure with toothpicks. Place parsley sprigs in the ends for garnish. Makes 16 appetizers.

Prize Winning Fruit Cake Gifts

The Christmas holiday is not complete without fruit cakes; and now is the time to bake them for Yuletide giving. Fruit cakes need at least a few weeks of ripening to be at their best. These "Jewel Fruit Cakes," chock full of plump raisins, dried fruits and almonds as well as candied fruit and peels, make ideal gifts. Each can be decorated and wrapped a different way to give an individual touch to all.

Cut 1 1/2 cups California fresh dates into small pieces. Rinse and drain 1 1/2 cups seedless raisins, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 cup dried apricots and 1 cup dried figs. Slice apricots and figs. Combine all fruits, 1/4 cup cut citron, 1/4 cup cut preserved orange peel, 1/2 cup sliced candied cherries, 2 cups chopped roasted almonds. Cream 1 cup shortening and 1/2 cup sugar together well. Blend in 1/2 cup honey. Beat in 5 eggs, one at a time. Sift together 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon allspice, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon mace. Blend flour mixture into creamed mixture. Pour batter over prepared fruits, nuts; mix well. Pour into small loaf pans (3 x 5 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches) lined with 2 thicknesses of greased brown paper and 1 thickness greased waxed paper. Bake in very slow oven (250 degrees F.) 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Decorate as desired. Makes 6 1-pound cakes.

Payola Victim Tells Sad Story

NEW YORK — Here's a little warning to people thinking of sending their children out into the popular song business nowadays . . .

Don't.

A good-looking young singer with a wife and 19-months-old son has just told how the disc jockey payola boys drained him and his family of $5,000 — then threatened his life for going to Dist. Atty. Hogan.

"They keep calling and saying, 'You stool pigeon! You'll get taken care of!'" said Don Anthony, 31, at his home in the Bronx.

"It was blood money," added Don, whose record of "Careless" is a hit, who even has his own small recording company.

"Everywhere I went — Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Chicago — they said, 'It's gonna cost you. Go to your people and get the money.'"

"I handed out $1,800 in one day in Philadelphia. The distributor there said, 'These boys are real pigs. But they can break the record for you.' I paid them — and then they didn't play the record."

"I thought about my wife Gloria and little Joey needing the money."

Don would subway home up to the Gun Hill Rd. section, and determine to be bled no more. But then at the tiny office of his Barblon Records, 1599 B'way he'd re-read a letter from J. Arthur Rank Records International asking to distribute his record in Europe.

Over at the Lambs they slapped him on the back.

"They didn't know I was broke," Don said. "I was on 150 shows all over the country — and never got paid once. Often there was a union man there saying it was O.K."

"I'd say 'Gee, I got a little baby. I could use the money.' They said, 'Just go on and keep quiet.'"

In August, Don's record was climbing. He was told he'd go on a certain show — to bring $145 cash. The show had no performer budget. Music firms paid the production company, which paid performers, thus satisfying the union.

"Since I was the record company, I had to get up the $145 . . ."

His wife wrote on the check, signed it Gloria Scarpatti (Don's real name). An AFTRA union man grabbed Don at the station, asked him for $50 union fees.

"This is all the money I've got!" Don pulled out the $145 check. The union man said, "What's this! You're not supposed to do this."

Don by now was sick of the business. When he got back only $100 out of the $145 — having paid taxes and union fees on a project on which he lost $45 — he was sicker. Next day a record promoter offered to plug his record — if he'd give him a third of his company!

"I wrote a letter to Dist. Atty. Hogan. I went to his office but got chicken after I got there, and left."

"And I'm just one of thousands of kids this has happened to. Hit singers — with holes in their shoes!"

Don went to Dist. Atty. Hogan to tell all. Don also went into the fur business, leaving the singing business to, as he says, "the real stupid dopes."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . CBS exec Lou Cowan'll probably convalesce (from phlebitis) in Europe.

Fewer than 25,000 foreigners enter Honduras each year — compared with the 600,000 Americans alone who visit Mexico as tourists.

Bedfords Host Composers At Song-fest Party

RANCHO MIRAGE — Twenty members of the Composers Section of the Musicians Club of Pomona Valley were guests Sunday of Robert and Phylla Bedford at their home on Ocotillo for a swimming party, buffet dinner and musical program.

A piano recital on tape of compositions by Bernice Bentley of Claremont was enjoyed, as well as original compositions by the various members in attendance that were played and sung.

The Bedfords presented their "Rancho Mirage Song" that was featured last year in the Rancho Mirage Round-Up, and the group was entertained with vocal solos by their daughters Bobby and Paula.

The Bedfords are well known in musical circles in Southern California and are active in the Palm Springs Community Concert Association.

TOP ART TEACHER NOW ACTIVE IN PD

By CHUCK WHEELER

PALM DESERT — Painters of the desert interested in learning the finer techniques of the artist's methods are finding out they don't have to go to Los Angeles or other points for expert instruction.

That instruction has come to them in the person of one Mrs. G. Powell Harding of 44678 San Juan Drive in Palm Desert.

MRS. HARDING has turned her desert home into one big, glorious painter's paradise with books on paintings, examples of good paintings, the best and latest in equipment and, most of all, the expert guiding hand of Mrs. Harding — who, incidentally, has exhibited in the principal galleries of the United States.

The old saying "some do, others teach" does not apply in any way to Mrs. Harding, for she is equally "at home" instructing or applying paint to the canvas herself.

PRESENTLY, STUDENTS of Mrs. Harding's school come from all over Southern California. A preponderance of students are from Palm Springs. Others come from Palm Desert, Twentynine Palms, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Indio, Thousand Palms and Thermal.

There is one student that commutes by plane from Oxnard. And many students are from out of state and some list Canada as their home address.

Classes by Mrs. Harding are also conducted at the Leisure Loft in Palm Desert, where classes in painting, dancing and related studies are held.

MRS. HARDING came to the desert from Santa Monica where she established that city's art gallery. Previously, she had been the supervisor of art for the San Rafael Schools, including the Dominican Convent; the Piedmont Public Schools; and had taught in the Oakland Technical High School.

Mrs. Harding majored in art at the University of California at Berkeley, the California School of Fine Arts at San Francisco and did postgraduate work in Columbia University at New York.

WITHIN THE PAST month, Mrs. Harding has exhibited in the Los Angeles Museum's "Artists of Los Angeles and Vicinity Show" and had a group of paintings shown at the Los Angeles Art Association; she was included in a television series of lectures on art.

Mrs. Harding's present exhibits are at the Pasadena Art Institute. Her paintings were seen in Palm Springs at the opening of the Playhouse last year.

THE PAINTING instructor was honored by being selected recently for "Who's Who in American Women," which is a selection of outstanding women from all activities in America. She is also listed in "Who's Who in American Art."

Mrs. Harding has been instructing in Palm Desert for the past three years and from all appearances, as the number of students increase (65 presently), it looks as if Mrs. Harding's desert school for painting will continue for many years to come.

ROTARY TO HEAR TOP COMPOSER

Frederick V. Bowers, composer of the old time and all time favorites, "Because" and "Always," will be featured entertainer at the Palm Springs Rotary Club meeting at noon Wednesday at the Chi Chi.

His "Because" and "Always" were written years before Irving Berlin's songs by those names echoed around the land. The former was the standard encore of one of the world's great trombonists, Arthur Pryor, who was John Philip Sousa's soloist, and who later had a band of his own.

Bowers will sing the old songs and tell the story of the theater of yesteryear.

He's a senior member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

Just a Nice Guy

Robert Young Has Problem

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Robert Young's problem as an actor is that he can't convince anyone he's a heel.

If he could, of course, there's a good chance he might never have become one of television's most popular papas, Jim Anderson of "Father Knows Best." But, as a matter of professional pride, Young wishes he could play a believable villain.

"I PLAYED A heel once and it was a fiasco," said the gnomely, silver-haired star.

"That was at RKO, and the picture was 'They Wouldn't Believe Me' with Susan Hayward. It was a lot of fun, but it was an absolute bomb at the box-office."

Young, 52, a veteran of more than 70 movies, explained:

"IT BOTHERED heck out of me. Like any actor, I was interested in the box-office, but especially in this case. If the picture had been no good, that would have been okay. But it got critical acclaim."

"Dore Schary, who was in charge of production at RKO at the time, was a personal friend of mine — so I asked him what happened, and he said: 'We have only one conclusion: The public wouldn't believe you're a heel.'"

"FOR YEARS, I had played good guys — then here I was, an out-and-out cad who was shameless with women and about everything."

"Dore said, 'I guess you better stay on the right side from now on.' So I had my fling, I guess. I just went too far."

The trouble, said Young, is that an actor always wants to be something he isn't.

"I SUPPOSE IT'S partly ego and partly skill," he said. "But I got off that kick. I went right back."

"Father Knows Best," which started out on radio, was kind of a logical extension of that thinking.

"It's now in its 11th year of radio and sixth year of television."

YOUNG WAS one of filmland's "nice guy" actors for years — playing in such films as "Claudia," "The Enchanted Cottage," "The House of Rothschild" and "Northwest Passage."

And, although he has never been a huge star, this "nice guy" manner is a big reason he's been able to work steadily even though he's past the "romantic lead" age.

"IF I WERE TRYING to play romantic leads, I'd be in trouble," he laughed.

"But this series has helped pave the way for me to play character parts when it's over. You might say it bridged the gap between my younger days and the character part days."

"Age and time cut down an actor's career. And it's worse on women. Seems like there's nothing written for the intermediate age — 45 to 55."

"OF COURSE, SOME actors in that age group — like Cary Grant — keep right on playing romantic leads, and well. And some actors just won't let go of their romantic days."

"Mine ended definitely when I became Jim Anderson of 'Father Knows Best.'"

LONGLEY DEFENDS GUNSHY MARSHAL

Bill Longley takes on a bandit chief and his gang when he defends a former lawman whose first gunshot wound destroyed his courage.

"The Texan," Monday, Nov. 30 (CBS Television Network, 8-8:30 p.m., p.s.t.).

Longley steps in when outlaw leader Pete Torrey cruelly mistreats Sam Maitland, once marshal and a top gunfighter, who killed Torrey's brother and later became gunshy from his first wound. The Texan tries to help defend Maitland, but the ex-lawman is still too frightened even to wear a gun, and his daughter Martha bitterly demands that Longley leave, fearing that her father will be killed.

Torrey orders Longley to leave town within a half-hour, with the obvious intention of murdering Maitland after the Texan has left.

Rory Calhoun stars as Bill Longley. Featured are Karl Swenson as Maitland, Sally Fraser as Martha, Robert Wilke as Torrey, Mac Tyler as Bert, Bern Hoffman as the Marshal, and Hal Baylor as Deke.

'Philadelphia Story' to Have TV Debut on 11

Orange Show Title Contest In Final Day

There's still time to try your hand at winning $100 in cash for submitting the best Mexican theme for the "Golden Anniversary" 1960 National Orange Show scheduled for San Bernardino April 28-May 8.

Entries must be in the mail before midnight Monday.

It's easy to enter the contest. Plainly print or type a Mexican theme on the back of a standard U.S. post office postal card, together with your name, address and phone number and mail to National Orange Show, San Bernardino, Calif. Contestants may submit as many themes as desired, but only one to a post card. In case of tie, entry bearing earliest postmark will be declared winner.

Best themes are short, preferably two or three words, and entries should be descriptive of the Mexican motif which will be carried throughout every department of the coming citrus exposition as a salute to the people of Mexico and our citizens of Mexican lineage.

Reunion Slated For VR-2 Men

SAN MATEO — Paul Portelli, 1046 W. Hillside Boulevard, is planning a reunion of enlisted men who served with the VR-2 squadron from 1942 through 1945 at Alameda Air Station and Treasure Island.

Time and place for the reunion will be set for the convenience of the majority of those wishing to attend. Interested enlisted "alumni" of the VR group are asked to contact Portelli.

UNITARIAN GROUP LASHES CATHOLIC FOREIGN AID STAND

WASHINGTON UP — A Unitarian group today labeled as "grossly unfair" a statement by U.S. Catholic bishops opposing the use of foreign aid funds for promoting artificial birth control in overpopulated countries.

The Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice said it was "unacceptably opposed" to the Catholic stand.

The group said it would support "all efforts by the United States in foreign aid or through the United Nations to help birth control state programs in India, Japan, Puerto Rico and all other countries where the population explosion is outstripping improved methods in food production."

ILLEGAL TO CUT TREES IN FORESTS

Cutting or removal of Christmas trees or any native tree, shrub or fern from National Forest lands within the San Bernardino National Forest is prohibited by law, according to Forest Officers.

The practice of providing free Christmas trees from National Forest lands to families, civic groups and organizations was abandoned many years ago, stated Donald R. Bauer, Forest Supervisor. Today the available trees would fall far short of the demand and the value of these remaining trees for recreation and forest background purposes far outweighs any other use.

Christmas trees may be cut from private lands with the San Bernardino National Forest, provided that written permission of the landowner is secured. Such permit shall be signed by the landowner, acknowledged before a Notary Public and copies given to the Constable of the Judicial District and Firewarden of the District in which the property is situated, prior to cutting or transporting the trees.

Special day and night patrols of Forest Officers will be on duty until Christmas Day to enforce Section 384a of the California Penal Code, which prohibits the cutting, transporting or offering for sale of Christmas trees from National Forest lands; or land of another without written permit.

Violators apprehended will be subject to a possible maximum penalty of $200 fine, six months in a County Jail, or both.

Mail Early Drive Gains 'Beat Christmas Rush' Asks City Postmaster

Postmaster Merritt Williams figures that the man who warned about hiding your light under a bushel had something.

Last week Williams advised local residents to get off the dime and get their Christmas mailing started early. The post office here, he said, is ready for action.

Yesterday Williams said that Villagers are responding "well" to his call but added that many persons are still obviously saving themselves for the traditional "last minute rush."

Williams said the post office is "well equipped" to handle the traditionally heavy Christmas mail load, but he cautioned parcel senders to step up their mailings if they want their packages delivered on time.

In addition to his suggestion that Yule packages be mailed now to avoid holiday bottlenecks, Williams also advised merchants and businessmen to postpone mailing of circulars and catalogues until after December 25 "to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush."

To facilitate handling of the holiday mail traffic, Williams asked mailers to secure free labels, which mark items for local or out of town delivery, at the post office.

Williams also announced that beginning Dec. 7, service windows at the post office will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily. He advised that heavy noon hour and late afternoon post office traffic can be avoided by mailing packages either before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

But Williams emphasized the need to "get your out-of-state packages into the post office within the next few days" and do "everything possible" to mail your gifts for local delivery by Dec. 10. He added that it's also wise to send your Christmas cards to nearby points at least a week before Christmas.

Martinez Ends Aviation School

Joseph J. Martinez, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Martinez of 4283 Calle San Antonio, graduated this month from the Aviation Mechanical Fundamentals School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

This school is a prerequisite for further training in the aviation field.

BARDOT UNENTHUSED BY PREGNANCY—WANTS 'NO MORE'

LONDON (UPI)—Brigitte Bardot hopes her first baby would be her last.

In an interview in her Paris apartment with the London Daily Express, the sex symbol of modern France said she didn't find pregnancy a joke and shouted "No, no, a thousands times no" when asked if she hoped to have more children.

Miss Bardot admitted she was frightened by the coming birth but added "I'm afraid I cannot find any way of avoiding it."

Asked if she wanted a boy or a girl she named "sex kitten" replied:

"It's all one to me, really, but I think a boy."

No. 88 Office of the CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

CASE 5209

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE PLANNING COMMISSION

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Planning Commission of the City of Palm Springs, California, will conduct a hearing in the City Council Chambers, 3208 McCallum Way, in Palm Springs, California, on December 16, 1959, to consider the amendment or repeal of Sections 9661, 9661.2 and 9618.1 of Division 9 of the Palm Springs Ordinance Code, providing setback regulations for building setbacks.

The Planning Commission will consider alteration of Division 9 of the Palm Springs Ordinance Code to provide that at the time of issuance of a building permit, the applicant for said permit shall dedicate any half streets that have not been dedicated, or shall dedicate additional rights-of-way as required under any approved Master Street Plan which sets forth rights-of-way in excess of those now shown on the existing standards and regulations provided by the Director of Public Works of said City. General City improvements to include paving, curbs and sidewalks, where necessary.

In addition, the Planning Commission shall consider the addition of a new section to Division 9 of the Palm Springs Ordinance Code to provide that street improvements shall be installed in all zone districts, excepting the single family residential districts, if not heretofore installed by subdivision requirement. The street improvements shall include the half street and the concrete curbs and gutters immediately abutting the premises to which the building permit would apply. The street improvements shall also include requirements for side walks in accordance with standards to be developed by the Director of Public Works.

ALL PERSONS IN INTEREST are directed to appear as above set forth and are requested to give testimony relevant to the establishment of the regulations as above set forth.

DATED at Palm Springs, California, this 27th day of November, 1959. HERMAN RANES, Planning Director, City of Palm Springs. Published: 11-30-59.

National Senior Open Play to Start Tuesday

540 to Compete In 6-Day Event

Tomorrow 540 of the top amateur and professional golfers of the nation will start the third annual U.S. Senior Open Championship play, to be held at Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado country clubs, Dec. 1-6.

The seniors, 50 years of age and over, will compete for more than $20,000 in prize money. To the top pro goes a $2,000 first prize. The A. K. Bourne perpetual trophy is up for either pro or am, and the Helms award will go to the low gross amateur.

GEORGE HOWARD, pro at O'Donnell Golf Club here, is president of the National Seniors Golf Association, which sponsors the annual event.

Tuesday through Friday the pro-amateur portion of the tournament will be held, with the two halves of the field playing the two clubs on alternate days. From the four days of play, the 60 low gross pros and 40 low gross amateurs will be chosen to play the 36-hole finals. Finals play will be at Bermuda Dunes Saturday and Eldorado Sunday.

THE SECOND lowest 100 golfers will play for additional prizes at Eldorado Saturday and Bermuda Dunes Sunday.

Top seniors competing will include Willie Goggin, defending champion and Gene Sarazen, tournament chairman. Johnny Dawson, Eldorado Country Club, is among the top contending amateurs.

Working on tournament arrangements are Howard, Sarazen, Joe Mozel, NSGA vice president; Olin Dutra, publicity chairman; Paul Runyan, prize chairman; and Robert Hudson and Joe Albi, president of the Athletic Round Table, Spokane, which started the Seniors Open tournament.

Lyford Wins Division Race in Inboard Regatta

Special to The Desert Sun
About 70 boats sped around Salton Sea Sunday in the final competition of the first annual Inboard Championship Regatta.

Chuck Lyford, Seattle world record holder in the 48 cubic inch hydroplane class, sped off with the trophy in that division with an average speed of 65.55 miles per hour.

THE THREE-DAY meet narrowly escaped tragedy when Art Kastner's huge 280-cubic inch hydroplane exploded shortly after taking the lead in the first lap of the big boat race.

Two fellow California drivers, Charles King, Redondo Beach, and Don Ward, Inglewood, leaped from their boats and pulled the Hermosa Beach speedster from the wreckage.

KASTNER WAS taken to Casitas Hospital in Indio, suffering from chest injuries and shock.

Another Californian, Allan Ford, Oakland, recorded the top time of the meet when he thundered his 225-cubic inch "California Kid" at a speed of 105.34 miles per hour during the first day of competition Friday.

Moments after Ford's feat, Red Wilson, Long Beach, set an unofficial world's record in the SK runabout class when he sped over the two-mile course at 89.65 miles per hour.

WINNERS IN Sunday's final competition were: 48 cubic inch hydroplane, Chuck Lyford, Seattle, 65.55 m.p.h.; 136-cubic inch hydroplane, Paul Bequette, San Diego, 56.71 m.p.h.; E racing runabout, Westley Knudsen, Provo, Utah, 57.43 m.p.h.; Cracker Box, Glenn Miller, Long Beach, 65.26 m.p.h.

135-cubic inch hydroplane, Jack Salmon, Whittier, 69.44 m.p.h.; B racing runabout, John Sherin, Bakersfield, 59.24 m.p.h.; 225-cubic inch hydroplane, Bob Ellis, Midway City, 73.23 m.p.h.; SK runabout, Bill Olson, Garden Grove, 75.44 m.p.h.; 280 cubic inch hydroplane, Dick Christensen, Torrance, 69.71 m.p.h.

Lee Expected To Be Senators' First Draft Pick
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Don Lee, 25-year-old pitcher who failed in three trials with the Detroit Tigers, was expected to be the Washington Senators' first draft pick today in the annual grab-bag of minor league talent.

The draft session was the first matter on the agenda of baseball men gathered here for the start of the minor league meetings. The major league's annual winter conclave will be held next week at Miami Beach.

The Senators, whose roster is three men short of the 40-man limit, and the San Francisco Giants, with four vacancies, were expected to be the most active teams in the draft.

Hutton Signs
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Former major league infielder Grady Hutton has signed again as manager of San Antonio of the Texas League, which he piloted to a fourth place finish in 1959.

Martyr or Villain, D'Amato's In the Middle

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Manager Cus D'Amato is center-man in boxing's all-time greatest confusion, whether he's a villain as the New York State Athletic Commission branded him or a martyr as his friends insist.

At 51, this somewhat stocky man with the bristly white hair and military bearing of an old-time Prussian fencing master is the hub of an international hurly-burly that makes even the Joe Gould ruckus of the 1930's seem like a polite tearoom misunderstanding.

GOULD, NOW DEAD, managed Jim Braddock during the legal hocus-brood that permitted the "Cinderella man" to jump from the Madison Square Garden Corp. to Mike Jacobs and defend the heavyweight crown against Joe Louis instead of Germany's Max Schmeling.

That was the time when Schmeling threatened to appear in the ring at Madison Square Garden "Bowl" for a "phantom fight" with Braddock, and then sue everybody concerned. But he never did.

THE PRESENT maelstrom of confusion is international, irrational and increasingly exasperating.

It would seem a simple situation at first glance. D'Amato manages Floyd Patterson, who lost the heavyweight title to Ingemar Johansson of Sweden at Yankee Stadium, June 26.

Giants Sure Of Tie After Win Sunday

Colts Defeat Rams to Keep Pace with 49ers

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International
The other 35 New York Giants soon may join Charley Conerly in riding around in new automobiles. The $25,000 bevy of gifts Conerly received Sunday at Yankee Stadium included two brand new autos. The 33-year-old quarterback immediately went into high gear against one of his favorite targets, the Washington Redskins.

CONERLY HAS a little Choctaw Indian blood in him. Maybe it helps make him particularly effective against the Redskins. Anyway, he threw two touchdowns passes to Bob Schnelker, one to Kyle Rote and set up a scoring run by Alex Webster and a Pat Summerall field goal.

Conerly, who has thrown 33 of his 156 National Football League touchdowns passes against the Redskins, enjoyed his spree in the first 29 minutes. Then he sat down to rest for a dance in his honor while the Giants whizzed to a 45-14 triumph that clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Division title.

THE GIANTS NOW are two games in front with two to play. It's a virtual certainty each of them can count on at least a $3,500 slice of championship game money and a new car if they want to match Conerly on the highway.

New York got sterling help from the San Francisco Forty-Niners, also giving their Western title hopes a huge boost, scored three times in less than seven minutes to edge the Browns at Cleveland, 21-20. The Steelers, with Bobby Layne throwing four touchdowns passes, whipped the Philadelphia Eagles at Pittsburgh 31-0.

THE BROWNS and Eagles started the day only a game behind the Giants but virtually lost all hope by losing. Coach Paul Brown, whose Browns invade New York next Sunday, told what the Forty-Niners had done to his team's Eastern chances in two words: "That's it."

The Baltimore Colts remained tied with San Francisco for the Western lead by downing the Los Angeles Rams, 35-21, at home behind the passing of John Unitas. The Chicago Bears kept their Western hopes alive, remaining a game behind the two leaders by thumping the Chicago Cardinals, 31-7, in Sunday's other game.

Each of the 12 clubs has two more regular season games.

Navy Considers Liberty Bowl

United Press International
The completion of the holiday bowl pairings waited today on a decision by Navy brass whether to call it a "perfect season" after the 43-0 rout of Army or to try "to glide the lily" by playing Penn State in the Liberty Bowl.

Harrassed Liberty Bowl officials — so far unable to stir up any enthusiasm for the Dec. 19 game — made a desperation bid to the Middles Saturday night and Capt. Asbury Coward, director of athletics at Annapolis said the invitation would be taken under consideration.

Yogi in Europe

ERNIE DUNLEVIE, RIGHT, co-developer with Ray Ryan of Bermuda Dunes Country Club, shows Golf Pro Ed Vines his trophy polishing stroking as the Palm Springs area golf course prepares to co-host a tremendous field of 551 deans of the divot starting Tuesday. The golfers are competing in the third renewal of the $20,000 U.S. National Senior Golf Championship that will embrace 31 playing days. Final round is scheduled for Eldorado Country Club on Sunday. The trophy, topped by a gold sculptured likeness of Walter Hagen, is named for its donor, A. K. Bourne, for many years a warm personal friend of golf's royalty and a Gold Card life member of the P.G.A. Home club of the winner will have a year's possession of the trophy, with a replica of the trophy going to the champ. Both previous tournament winners, Fred J. Wood (Seattle, 1957) and Willie Goggin (Dunedin, Florida, 1959), will be in the midst of the shooting. (Gayle Studio Photo)

GOLFERS FIND FLORIDA LIKE SKATING RINK
CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UPI) — Temperatures more suitable to the outdoor skating rink than a golf course were on tap today for more than 125 of the nation's top pros teeing off in the qualifying round of the $25,000 Coral Gables Open.

The weatherman predicted temperatures in the low 40's for morning starters in the 18-hole test on the palm-lined Biltmore course.

The leading pros of the PGA tournament trail are exempt from qualifying play, leaving 60 tournament spots open for the 72-hole medal play that runs Thursday through Sunday.
